My Favorite Things: Conversaciones Con John Coltrane (Alpha Mini) From Ediciones Alpha Decay

Jazz legend John Coltrane rarely granted interviews to journalists, believing that words could not adequately express the emotion and feelings his music conveyed. On those few occasions when he did sit down with interviewers, however, as in these conversations with jazz critic Michel Delorme carried out in 1962 and 1963, Coltrane revealed a modest, intensely calm nature belied by the force and determination of his music. The interviews as well as a letter Coltrane sent to "Downbeat" magazine editor Don DeMichael in 1962 offer a rare glimpse into the inner world of a man whose contributions marked him as a musical great for the ages."
